swearing out five more warrants, one of which was a raiding warrant. As a result Roslyn was in a turmoil last night. Nelson swore out warrants for the entire gang. Among them was Frank Forster. When the trial of Nelson opened yesterday before Squire Lane it was evident that nothing was going to be left undone to secure the conviction of the former Jackson City proprietor. In fact, he made no effort to defend himself. Commonwealth's Attorney Johnston and Attorney Marbury appeared for the prosecution. Nelson was represented by Mr. John H. Greene, of this city. Justice Pelham assisted Squire Lane, and the trial had progressed very far before several spicy incidents showed themselves. It was found that the warrant which had been issued with William Mudd as complainant, was defective, and before the case was opened Mr. Marbury asked that another warrant be issued. This was done and immediately served on Nelson. The first one was nolle prossed and Mr. Greene asked for the defendant that the first warrant be dismissed with costs on plaintiff. Mr. Greene asked that the case be moved to the county court of Alexandria. Justice Pelham said: "For what reason?" "I never gave a reason for what I did," said the lawyer. The court overruled the motion and counsel moved a continuance on the ground that the warrant had only been served but a few minutes before. This was also overruled and the defendant asked that the case be quashed, as the present warrant was defective in that it charged both promoting policy and allowing it to be done on the premises. Again was the motion overruled. Then the witnesses were sworn and testified. The justices conferred in an adjoining room at the conclusion of the hearing and said they found Nelson guilty, and imposed a sentence of thirty days in jail and a fine of $100. Mr. Greene noted an appeal to the county court, and asked that Nelson be released on his personal bond, as he was under heavy bond to appear at the same term of court. This was opposed by Mr. Marbury, and arguments were made on both sides and Nelson was placed under bonds.

The open way in which Nelson had asked for a raiding warrant had not gone unnoticed, and by the time the deputy was ready, Joe Thomas, who runs a Jackson City saloon, was seen driving hastily in that direction. At Roslyn Frank Forster and Thurston Johnson were seen near the entrance to Lully's. The deputy sheriff went to the door and started to enter, but his progress was barred. The door was finally opened and the party passed up stairs. When the official commenced to look for his prey he found that nearly all of them had escaped. Frank Forster hurried across the Aqueduct bridge but returned and was placed under arrest. The warrant which was served on Thurston Johnson read Ferguson Johnson, and being therefore defective that person escaped arrest. Lully could not be found and neither could the other men.

RAILROAD MATTERS.—Pennsylvania railroad officials neither confirm nor deny the rumor that their company has secured control of the Falls Church electric road and intend to extend the system of electric lines to the Blue Ridge mountains in order to compete with the Chesapeake and Ohio in both passenger and freight departments. The extension of the line beyond Falls Church would require the passage of a special act by the Virginia Legislature, and as this could not be obtained until the Assembly convenes, the opening of the line as far as Leesburg could not take place until next spring. The local officials of the Pennsylvania road admit that such a deal has been seriously considered, but do not know if it has been consummated. An agreement has been entered into by the Mount Vernon and Falls Church Electric railways by which a passenger may buy a through ticket from any point on one line to his desired destination on the other. The two roads come together at Roslyn, which is the terminus of the Falls Church road. Previous to this agreement a passenger who desired to go to Arlington or any other point on the Falls Church line was forced to buy a ticket at Washington for Alexandria and then transfer to the Falls Church line at Arlington. By the terms of this agreement, which was entered into yesterday, and will go into effect in a few days, as soon as the tickets can be printed, each road will sell a through ticket to any point on the other. The patrons of the roads will be saved considerable time and trouble by the new regulation.

ONE ON THE HOTEL MAN.—In a certain town there is a hotel which prides itself as having as its principal chamber a room which was occupied by both Washington and Lee. The old gentleman, who is proprietor, clerk and general manager, never forgets to impress this fact on every guest. One day last week a New York Journal man arrived at midnight and was assigned to the historic room. He had heard of the old gentleman's pride. When he appeared in the office next morning the old gentleman slapped him on the shoulder and went through his set speech, "honored by sleeping in the same bed occupied once by Washington and Lee." "And I don't think the bed has been made up since they slept in it," said the Journal man. They say the bonfire has reformed, and don't call the attention of travelers to his relics anymore.—Roanoke World.

MASONIC VISITATION.—A number of the Masonic fraternity of this city paid a visit to Kemper Lodge, of Falls Church, last night. The party left here in the early part of the evening and did not return until after midnight. After an exemplification of the collation was spread and discussed by the sixty-five persons present. Past Masters K. Kemper, John Fisher and J. E. Alexander, of this city, and Worshipful Master Wright, of Clifton Lodge, and Worshipful Master Crocker, of Lewisville Lodge, together with Mr. Meekins, the candidate, made speeches during the evening. All expressed themselves as highly pleased with the evening's entertainment.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire shortly after one o'clock this afternoon was caused by the partial burning of W. H. Whiting's stable in the rear of his store, on the north side of Gibbon street, between Pitt and St. Asaph. The roof was burned off before the fire was extinguished. The fire department was soon on the ground and at work.
